Shortly after the onset of World War II, he entered the service of his country, participating in several combat campaigns in the European Theatre as a member of the United States Army; a service he was extremely proud of. Following completion of his service, he was honorably discharged and returned to the United States. He first became the band director at Vinton High School for several years. He then began his career in manufacturing with Southern Steel, then several years with Mayfair Industries.

F." or "Boud"/ "Shug" as Jeanne affectionately called him, spent several years traveling the country and world from one adventure to another. "L. F." and Jeanne were married for sixty-three (63) years until her passing in 2005. An avid outdoorsman, "L. F." loved spending many days fishing and working in his garden. He loved entertaining and cooking for his family. His garden vegetables were the talk of the family as was his famous chili recipe that has been passed down for generations and to many friends of the family. A man of extreme spiritual faith, "L. F." and Jeanne were lifelong parishioners of Our Lady of Fatima Church where he served as an usher.

"L. F." leaves behind to treasure his memory his son, Dale James Boudreaux; one grandson, Garrett Lane Boudreaux and wife, Dayna; his great grandchildren, Neil James Boudreaux and wife, Lindsay, Meaghan Marie Boudreaux Landry and husband, Logan; one great-great grandson, Beckett Lane Boudreaux; one sister, Lona Blackwell; several nieces, nephews, and cousins.

“ To the Boudreaux family,
My mother, Mae Bernard and "Boud" worked together for many years at Mayfair and at Starline. He and Mrs. Jeanne were also neighbors to my parents. My parents spoke very highly of them both and enjoyed spending time together having dinner and even traveling together on occasion. My dad passed away in 2000 and my mo earlier this year but I know that she would want to send her sincere condolences to you.
From our family, you have our sympathy for the loss of such a good and respected man.
